

Chapter 9

Embodiment of Mahima

The following afternoon, Yogi Maharaj and Mohan Bhagat went to Narayan Kund to answer the call of nature. Mohan Bhagat watched Yogi Maharaj go into the distance with a gourd of water in his hand. Suddenly, Yogi Maharaj put down the gourd and began to do dandvats in the direction of the mandir. When he returned and was washing his hands, Mohan Bhagat asked about the dandvats. Yogi Maharaj said, “This place is very miraculous. This is such an amazing divine abode that great avatars wear out their crown jewels bowing their heads before it.”

Mohan Bhagat was astounded to hear Yogi Maharaj describe this place as having such divine glory. He felt that he was witnessing an extraordinary “Jogi” himself! Truly, Yogi Maharaj was a living embodiment of mahima.
